1. Who you are

Name: _____

Email (to join the list): _____

Organization / station: _____

2. Roles you'd consider

Check all that interest you — even “maybe, tell me more.”

- Channel Steward — watch over a slice of source channels (no coding)
- Pipeline Operator — run the batch scripts on a schedule
- Script Maintainer — fix/adapt the code when platforms change
- Collection Curator — metadata standards and quality control
- Coordinator — keep the group aligned, run the list, onboard people
- Not sure yet — but keep me in the loop

3. The “Archive Corps” idea — would you want this?

We're testing appetite only. A small training cohort (6–8 people) in digital archiving, metadata, and Internet Archive specifics — roughly 4 sessions over 6 weeks. This is not a commitment.

- Yes — I'd join a founding cohort if it ran
- Interested in the idea, but not as a participant (e.g., I'd help teach / organize)
- Maybe — depends on timing and format
- Not for me

What would make this worth your time? (or what would stop you?) _____

4. Skills you bring

- Command line / running scripts
- Python or shell scripting
- yt-dlp / video tooling
- Metadata, cataloging, or archival standards
- Archive.org / collection management
- Community organizing / coordination

Other: _____

5. How much time, realistically?

- A few hours a month
- A few hours a week
- Happy to be a backup / on call for emergencies

6. A specific slice you'd want?

e.g., a region, a set of stations, or a topic area you already care about:

Thank you. The one next step out of this session: everyone who wrote an email above gets added to the project list, and we'll follow up there.
